Death was due to pneunonia, which developed shortly after an operation a week ago for gall stones. He was seventy-two years old, a native of Farmington Maine. After leaving college he modeled an industrial insurance company being the first to introduce this sort of insurance in this country. The beginning was the widow's and orphan's Friendly society, which later became the Prudential company. He was elected to the senate as a republican in 1902 and four years later was the choice of the pripary for re-election. His health broke lown during a deadlock of the state egislature, during which he was induced to withdraw.
